

College Girls/Senior High School Guys

Dear Delores,

Why do 21 year old girls in college date senior boys in high school? I'm only a freshman in highschool and I even know thats messed up. I mean really, have some self respect. "When I graduate I'm not gonna hang around my old highschool like some creepy loser;" -I love you, Beth Cooper.

Because some girls, even near college graduate age, are still really immature. Hooray for you that you are more mature and hopefully won't do this yourself. If they knew how really stupid they look chasing senior high school boys I bet they wouldn't do it. But then again, that may be all they can get at their maturity level. Just smile when you see these couples and know how dreadful it must be to have to "settle".
