

Weather Watchers

Are there any weather watchers out there?

I'm sure there are a few. I enjoy watching the Weather Channel for one because there isn't anything I have worry about with children in the room with that channel and two because it is just nice to know what to expect. And it doesn't hurt when it is coming from a source like Jim Cantore either.

Recently, I notice on our Dish Network guide that the NASA channel had moved down one slot. It seems the Weather Channel is expanding finally to offer an additional local only channel. The regular Weather Channel will remain on channel 214 while the local version will be 213 (on Dish Network).

I think it will be helpful in the long run to have two useful sources. Just thought I'd keep everyone in the know.

Rest assured I won't be playing Helen Hunt's role and chasing any tornados this summer and hoping the weather remains nice and tornado-free.
